Constitution of the Republic of Sprachenland

As a man of this nation, I call each other to obey it and represent the truthful nation that was created before us, let us rejoice, obey, and love.

Section 1: As members

1.As members of our community, we are to be a shelter among each other, a river from the great source for others to drink, a shade from the blazing sun, a person who invites the most foreign foreigner. Their words are to be as loud as sirens, as strong as a double edge sword with truth, but a shield among themselves and among allies. They are to be strong, but at the same time be soft, a comforter, brothers among sisters, sisters among brothers, a refuge of refugees. But most of all, a lover of all, for allies and enemies. 2.As a king/queen shall be royal and loyal, he/she will be loyal to the community, as her status in general outside of position will always be equal to even the person who has the lowest position in current history of the nation, this also applies to the other council members. 3.Finally, for all, the righteous will prosper, but a fool's light will be cut off, and anyone who views such a person as great, they are more blind than a physically blind person. They have no loyalty which is much greater than royalty, they seem to have power, but they don't, nothing as such. They are to be turned away by the head of our nation. Yet there will always be mercy for them, for all.

Section 2: Government

1.The nation will run under a Federal Semi-Directorial Constitutional monarchy. The government is like a directoral government except the fact that this government can hold motions of no confidence (for valid reasons of course and shall be held every 4 years per person.)

2.Head of state

Each courtman has the powers of a head of state. As for the king/Queen (who is also a courtman), they shall not have more power than regular courtmen but instead shall represent royalty, like in the Uk. A vote will be held every 6 years to replace 2 courtmen, though if there's no volunteers, the courtroom will remain the same.

3.Legislature

The parliament functions by the Upper House performing lawmaking by researching, writing, and passing legislation by a majority vote by the Upper House, and can vote on adding or removing constitutional amendments. The Lower House controls cost and can vote a motion of no confidence against members of the government (1 at a time.)

4.Political parties

There are no current political parties, due to the inactivity of multiple politicians within microwiki.

5.Law and order

Every member of the government holds judicial powers depending on their region they where assigned too. Though, every member holds power in court when it comes to judging a government member.

6.Military

Every branch of the military will only be used for serious purposes instead of simulation. War simulation is not allowed out of respect of people (who/ who are) (suffered/suffering) from fleeing or fighting in war or both.

Section 3: Constituional changes

1.Amendments

An amendment is an addition or change to the constitution, a vote will be held every 4 years of add 1 amendment or not.
